What is a CPR number and why do you need it?

What is a CPR number?

- A CPR number is a personal identification. The CPR number consists of ten digits – the first six digits are your date of birth and the last four are your unique identification number.

Why do you need a CPR number?

- You are legally required to have a CPR number when you are residing in Denmark (for more than 3 months).
- Almost all public authorities in Denmark use the CPR registry system to avoid duplicate registration and to secure a person's identity.
- You can use your CPR number in many situations:
 - To open a Danish bank account
 - When you are at the doctor (the yellow health insurance card)
 - Danish phone number
 - Travel card (rejsekort)

NB! You shouldn't hand out your CPR number to everyone.

How to get the CPR number

- You must have a Residence Permit (Non EU students) or an EU Residence Document (EU students) in order to receive the Danish CPR number
- EU students can apply for their CPR number online through this link: : https://kkih-prod-mob.f2-cloud.com/SelfService/submission/submit/ICS_AFC but must bring the document on the day of registration in International House Copenhagen.
- EU students have to book an appointment with the Danish Agency for International Recruitment and Integration (SIRI) to get the residence document. You can book an appointment here: (representatives from Zealand will join the registration days in SIRI the 31st of August and 7th of September: https://scandic.cleverq.de/public/sites/3/appointments/index.html?hash=13aa72af30&lang=en&service_id=53
- NON-EU students can apply for CPR number with their residence permit document from SIRI
